

From Tony Davis, one of the recipients of the Passion for Making a Difference Award:

I still feel very humble & privileged to have been selected for the nomination and award recipient.

You have a great team & the day (Wed) at the conference was one I will remember for a long time.

I must add that I attended my first National Conference in 2005, Mandurah WA. I still remember that particular conference for the presentation “It Last A Lifetime” story/movie about 2 young lads that lost their lives entering a confined space. I will remember that moment in time the rest of my life.

Every Conference attended, gives you positives about Behavioural Based Safety & the potential benefits that I as a person can contribute back to your own workplace.

I have memories of meeting some inspiring people over the years at many of the conferences I’ve attended, none so more than Alex Jankiewicz.

I feel whether your business is at the beginning of its journey or charging through the years with RBS, you’re SafetyWorks National Conference will give you vigour and new ideas for your programs success.

I would like to add, our program “QSafe” has had a shot in the arm from Mike Routledge, and he as like his predecessors has put his personality & passion into the programme’s success.

The program is now hitting some amazing milestones, and so much credit must be pointed towards his way. He deserves a big pat on the back.

I look forward to catching up with you all at our (QAL) RBS Conference later this year.

Thankyou
